The Power of Love

4 Love is patient, love is kind and is not jealous; love does not brag and is not arrogant, 5 does not act unbecomingly; it does not seek its own, is not provoked, does not take into account a wrong suffered, 6 does not rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with the truth; 7 bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never fails. 1 Corinthians 13:4-8a

Christians have justified all manner of aggression against one another. They justify selfish actions in the name of having been hurt or wronged. They vindicate their non-Christian acts by declaring they are in the right.

Love simply does not act this way. Love does not need to be metered. Love is freely given to all. Love is not a commodity to be withheld from one so there is a greater supply for another. Love allows one to seek the very best for all concerned. Love is patient and kind. Love is not jealous. That means love is not upset when good things happen to another. Love rejoices. Love does not brag or puff up. Love deals in reality. Love truly longs for all to be seen and heard.

Love never acts unbecomingly. When I see folks harming others rather than graciously serving them, I am amazed at how they claim to love one another while stabbing each other in the back. Love does not seek its own. It is always seeking the other's good. Imagine having three or four kids and having to choose which one to love. Love simply longs God's good on each of them. The prodigal's father did not choose one over another. He simply had room for both the one that stayed home and the one who returned home.

When you take into account a wrong suffered you will find love hard to maintain. Love everyone. They cannot stop you even if they try.

"By this all men will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another." John 13:35
